Identity sought for body

Sheriff's officials are searching for the identity of skeletal remains discovered just off US 27, about 18 miles south of South Bay, Friday, Feb. 3.

Detective Rick Radford said officials suspect a homicide.

Time of death was estimated at about one year. Officials are contacting various law agencies about missing persons reports and are following several leads, Radford said.

The skeleton was described by medical examiners as a white male, age 18-30, from 5-foot-8 to 6 feet tall, and dark hair.

The man had suffered head injuries and a broken jaw, which could have been caused after death, according to detectives.

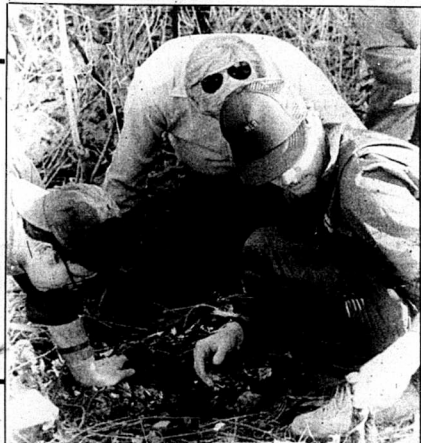

The man had also apparently been bound, Radford said.

The skeleton was found at about 4:30 p.m. by a man collecting empty cans in dense overgrowth about 15 feet off of US 27.

While sheriff's detectives began the investigation Friday afternoon, it was halted because of dark and the scene was left guarded overnight.

Medical examiners John Morracini and W.A. Miller were called to the scene Saturday morning and attempted to compile remains into a human form.

Sheriff's officials investigating the case include Radford, Detective Bud Backnems, Sergeant John Braido and Sergeant-Detective Mike Gauger.

INVESTIGATORS search for clues near the site where a body was discovered Saturday.

2 badly burned in cane bus fire near South Bay

SOUTH BAY—A cane bus carrying 21 Haitian men to work caught on fire just north of South Bay on US 27, early Saturday morning, Feb. 4.

Two of the passengers were burned badly. Alcejer Dimanche suffered second degree burns to 30 percent of his body after his clothing caught on fire. Marie C. Andre suffered second degree burns to her face.

Both Dimanche and Andre were admitted to Glades General Hospital for treatment. As of Tuesday, they were both listed in satisfactory condition.

A total of 20 other people were transported by ambulance to either Glades General, Everglades Memorial, or Hendry General hospitals. All 20 were released after treatment of minor injuries.

According to the driver of the bus, Denis

Morel, the fire started in the engine and worked its way into the bus. Morel told Glades substation sheriff's officials that he pulled the bus off the road and told the passengers to exit.

The bus was destroyed in the fire. Workers were on their way from Belle Glade to A. Duda and Sons Farms in LaBelle.

In a related incident, a semi truck was damaged when its driver jackknifed the vehicle in the highway. According to sheriff's reports, the driver of the semi attempted to stop his vehicle on US 27 when he saw the bus on fire about 800 yards directly in front of him.

The driver reportedly lost control of the vehicle and it consequently jackknifed across the road causing extensive damage, but also serving as a roadblock in front of the fire.

5 Raider gridgers sign letters of intent

WILLIE SNEAD, Eric Smith, Rhondy Weston, Tim Sims, and John Ford

BELLE GLADE—Five Glades Central High School seniors signed letters of intent, Wednesday, Feb. 8, to play football for major universities.

Rhondy Weston, Tim Sims, John Ford, Willie Snead and Eric Smith, all stepped into the big time with a sweep of the pen.

Weston, the heavily recruited Parade All-American lineman, chose the University of Florida.

Sims, defensive back and tailback for the Raiders, will try to earn a spot with the national champion University of Miami Hurricanes.

Ford and Snead, the Raiders wide receiving corps, will be looking for the long one with the University of Virginia.

And Smith, the quarterback, receiver, defensive back who was injured much of his senior year, signed on with South Carolina State.

Wednesday was the first day to sign letters of intent.

Dan Brown, Raider grid coach, said he hoped to send more kids to college before the recruiting season ended.

With five players already signed as compared to seven all of last year, Brown said this could be the school's biggest year ever in obtaining scholarships.

"It's a tribute to the kids and to the school," he said.

Each of the five recruits have a good chance at becoming quality college players, Brown added.

All the players were urged to carefully consider their choice before signing letters of intent, Brown said. "I told them, that's where you're going to have to live for four-five years."

The schools represented at the high school Wednesday all have fine programs in athletics and academics, Brown said.

The school has sent other athletes to both the University of Florida and South Carolina State.

2 more qualify for South Bay election

City growth a major concern

SOUTH BAY—Jim Shropshire entered the South Bay city commission race on Tuesday, Feb. 7.

Shropshire, 50, 910 N.W. Fourth St., handed in his qualification papers and thus officially began to vie for the seat currently held by Rennick Morris, who has also announced his candidacy for the March 13 election. Shropshire, making his first attempt to hold a public office, said he would promise to always be fair and impartial as a city official.

He cited growth as his major concern.

"I'd do my best to see the city grow wherever possible," he said.

Among areas where growth is needed, Shropshire said, is transportation and in-

SOUTH BAY—South Bay City Commissioner Rennick Morris will be running to retain his commission seat in the March 13 election.

Morris, 55, 185 NW 6th Ave., South Bay, qualified as a candidate for the election

Thursday, Feb. 2.

"One of my main purposes in continuing is I don't want to see this city go back. I want to see it go forward," Morris said.

Running now for his second term in office Morris said he was satisfied with the progress of the city during the past two years.

"I believe South Bay is on good grounds and headed for success. I think its financially stable, politically stable and I hope to keep it that

ASCS committee visits BG

By TOM KISKEN

BELLE GLADE — From milk and honey to sugar and beef, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee covered a variety of issues in a special meeting here, Monday, Feb. 6.

Discussions of local and state issues with both press and Glades farmers sandwiched the state committee's regular meeting at the Glades Sugar Growers' Co-op, Monday morning.

The meeting is the first step in the state committee's efforts to discuss issues with their constituents. The three-man committee plans to meet once in each of the five Florida districts during 1984. The Glades district includes all counties south of Charlotte and Indian River.

State Chairman Tom Kleppe Jr. said the committee wanted to explain what it was doing and also hear any public input.

"It's very important to get out here instead of sitting in an ivory tower," Kleppe said.

The state committee includes: Kleppe, a citrus grower from Winter Haven; Fritz Stein Jr., a cane grower from Belle Glade; and Ward Dougherty, a rancher from Lutz. Also at the meeting were state ASCS Executive Director Jim Bailey and Mike Green, district director.

The state committee is appointed by the federal Secretary of Agriculture and serves as a type of board of directors, directing policy to be carried out by the executive director.

Issues touched on by the committee included: milk diversion program; flooding organic lands; honey; sugar cane; and future needs.

Milk diversion

Kleppe said the ASCS' brand new milk diversion program was born out of necessity. The program attempts to reduce the alarming dairy surplus, he added.

"Dairy production is at a critical level," he said. "Something had to be done to cut it (production)."

The program reduces the incentive to produce milk by decreasing the price support from $13 for each 100 weight of milk to $10.

Bailey said the goal is to reduce the number of dairy cattle.

Signup for the program just ended Jan. 31, and application numbers are not yet available. The program is slated to run 15 months, through March 31, 1985.

Kleppe said one byproduct of the program could be an increased number of beef cattle on the market. Dairy farmers might convert some of their herd to beef, he said.

Hopefully, the cut in the dairy surplus will more than offset the increase in beef supply. "We at ASCS will be counting cattle," Kleppe summarized.

Local farmers expressed faith in the program, expressing confidence the beef market would survive well intact.

Flooding

Kleppe said the committee was doing its best to regain the farmers' right to flood organic lands in a government cost-sharing program.

Farmers had this right a few years ago, only to have it revoked by the federal government in 1980-81.

Kleppe said the government maintains farmers flood for production reasons. He argued that organic flooding serves a very important conservation purpose—protecting the soil.

"I think it is absolutely critical that we protect what we have," he said.

One Glades area farmer asked the committee if farmers could help in the battle for organic flooding rights. He also asked for any advice in farming the muck soil without flooding.

Kleppe said he appreciated the support and added that the committee would continue to lobby the issue.

Sugar cane

Delton Yancey, of the Florida Sugar Cane League, told the state committee and farmers that the future could hold an increased world wide cane surplus.

Domestic cane production will probably stay about the same in the near future or increase slightly, Yancey said, adding this will just add to an already existing surplus.

Overseas, cane supplies will probably also increase, he added.

Yancey said he was optimistic that the 1985 Farm Bill will help cane farmers. "I'm optimistic a bill will pass and I think cane growers will be included."

However, farmers will have to work together as a team to get the farm bill through Congress, Yancey added.

Briefly outlining the route of Florida cane after being harvested, Yancey said about 75-80 percent of it is refined outside of the state, mostly on the United States' eastern seaboard.

Other states prefer Florida sugar over other state's because of its high quality, he said. The Florida cane is very easy to refine.

Honey

With government price supports higher than market prices, ASCS took in over $11 million of honey last year, Kleppe said, more than doubling last year's intake.

This rapid increase has the state committee on its toes, eyeing potential problems including storage, Kleppe said.

Currently, the ASCS is leasing storage space, he said.

Bailey said the foreign markets have been controlling honey, causing most of the product's domestic woes.

Honey concerns could be greatly benefited, if the government can develop its own foreign market, Bailey added. Such a market would enable growers to export their product and would thereby help correct surplus problems.

Status and policies

"We feel very positive about the moves being made in agriculture. This is a very exciting time for us," Kleppe said.

The ASCS and the Agricultural Department are moving forward in time fashion, he said.

The current administration has combined the need for growth with great awareness and concern about conservation, Kleppe said. "They realize that in the agricultural business we don't have anything without the soil," he said.

Dougherty pointed out the administration has offered temporary incentives to growers, but has not dictated actions.

"We believe in incentive programs, rather than in the government telling us what to do," he said.

Admitted all the talk about price supports and government loans, Dougherty also explained that only about one-third of the nation's agricultural realm receives any government aid at all.

Incentives are acceptable only when they are used only as a temporary means of correcting inequities, he added.

"The government should not guarantee prices or profits," he said.

Future

Kleppe said the future could be just as rewarding as the last few years.

"Moving hopefully into the next four years, we're looking at more of the same thing," he said.

Kleppe emphasized the future importance of foreign markets. All farmers are affected by the overseas market, Kleppe said, noting the United States has to develop the ability to use the foreign market to its advantage.

"The key for us in the ASCS today is to find foreign markets that we can develop," Kleppe said.

Maybe I was just feverish

What I am writing here will not contribute so much as a footnote toward the advance of medical research, but it might bring aid and comfort to those of you who are about to be struck down by a mysterious malady that is loose in our midst.

I was, of a Sunday afternoon, pursuing the Miami Clarion, as is my wont, while on the stove, a late and unlamented Leghorn, simmered in the pot, fulfilling its destiny of becoming smothered in dumplings, fricassee or la kinged, according to whatever whim should overtake me at supper time. Of a sudden, the newspaper began shaking violently before my eyes.

I quickly deduced the reason: it was animated by my trembling hands which were, in turn, reacting to icy cold chills emanating from my ordinarily toasty-warm spine. Reading the dismal news reports of the week frequently has its effect on me, but not usually to that extent.

In earlier times I might have concluded I was being possessed by an evil demon that had gained entrance through a window left open at night. But today, of course, we know that is nonsense. Evil demons enter quite as easily through closed windows. Either way, I don't believe that as a rule they lie about until afternoon before getting down to whatever naughty deeds they have in mind.

It was more likely, I conjectured, that I had come under an evil Egyptian spell. Offhand, I couldn't recall any evil Egyptians among my friends, but I asked myself, have you made the acquaintance of one recently? The answer was no. The only foreigner I'd met recently was from Kentucky. Now Kentucky does distill some evil spirits, but from what little I know of these, they are confined in bottles which render them harmless unless the unsuspecting victim first removes the cork.

To be on the safe side, however, I consulted the greatest expert of all times on international curses: Sherlock Holmes. I learned nothing that helped me.

Perhaps, I thought, I am being visited by a ghost or some other supernatural phenomenon and might better consult Shirley Jackson, the once eminent expert on those matters. The usual accompanying evidence was missing: there was no shrieking going on around me and no ominous crashes and scraping noises. Furthermore, as I gazed around the room I could see that the only thing there visibly shaking was myself.

Ailsa Dewing

"And What Not?"

Could there be such a thing as the Curse of the Chickens? Had I been struck by Chicken Voodoo? The victim of fancies of fowl play (phantoms of phowl play)? Given the erratic and neurotic behavior of chickens, I doubted there could be a premeditated plot by poltergeist poultry. To be on the safe side, of course, I could give the simmering chicken to a neighbor. Not neighborly, I decided. Better to give it to the cat who already act somewhat possessed — staring intently at nothing whatsoever and jumping a foot when a leaf rustles past them.

Some of you may wonder why I didn't consult my home medical encyclopedia for an answer. Plainly speaking, I find that book to be an alarming reference source. A simple hangnail, for example, can present the same symptoms as McFlucker's Syndrome — an incurable situation in which the skin of the body peels itself like an apple, beginning with the fingers. Whenever I consult it about a trivial indisposition I invariably find several chronic disorders that can exhibit the same symptoms I'm showing. Heaven knows how many rare and fatal conditions reveal their presence with shuddering shivers. I was feeling too ill to cope with the full range of probabilities. I proceeded to do what any wise person does who has consulted a physician. I took two aspirin and went to bed. Drinking plenty of liquid was out of the question. My stomach violently rejected the proposal, as well as the liquids.

On Monday I decided — for better or for worse — to go to work. There I would be closer to the hospital and/or the undertaker, if need be. Also, I would get sympathy and advice. What I got of

Letter

Dear Editor,
I have some questions concerning Proposition One, which I am in favor of.

Is the vote unfair if it's current Florida residents against those waiting to migrate because they are too smug, despairing or lazy to change conditions where they are? Nothing is impossible, as they say.

Would Proposition One not effectively stop the influx of New Yorkers that has averaged over 200 per day for the past five years? Would it not make them consider the wisdom of Jeffersonian decentralization?

Is it even possible to rebel against such a magnificent concrete box of industry and commerce? Must Hamiltonians really live in such a way to accomplish their task? London, for example, has much more "green space" spread throughout the city.

Will we have the nerve as a state to draw the line against "urban blight"? If the amendment does cut service funds too much in some places, individual communities can vote to correct specific shortcomings. Can a state's people stick together?

Is it not a "democratic" proposal?

MICHELLE BOHANNON, at home with her family in Pahokee.

Young burn victim returns home

By TOM KISKEN

PAHOKEE — After two months of burn treatments in hospitals far from home, little Michelle Bohannon returned home to Pahokee last Wednesday, Feb. 1.

"My thoughts were: grab her, hug her and love her," said Roy Bohannon, Kings Trailer Park, Lot 19, of the moment when he saw his 10-year-old daughter in the doorway of the jet at Palm Beach International Airport, Wednesday night.

"It's really wonderful," Bohannon said. "We're just thankful we still have our baby." Burned in a transformer accident at the Bryant Station in Pahokee Nov. 26, Michelle is making progress toward recovery, Bohannon said.

Bandaged and wearing a plastic mask over her face, which prevents scarring, Michelle is walking around and doing better all the time. She will go back to the Shriners' Burn Center in Cincinnati in about two weeks to undergo further tests. Bohannon says hopefully she will soon be back home for good.

While doctors are not yet sure to what extent Michelle will recover, Bohannon said he is confident the future will bring good news.

"We're looking toward the future, she's going to be normal and we're going to be the family we were before," he says.

However, Bohannon stresses while the family is optimistic they are taking Michelle's recovery one day at a time.

"She still has a long way to go," he says. "But the important thing is that our baby is alive."

Two months ago, Michelle's fate was unknown.

On Nov. 25 Michelle and a friend had been throwing rocks at the Bryant Station transformer when one of the rocks hit a wire causing sparks which caught on the Michelle's clothing.

Michelle suffered third degree burns, over 70 percent of her body. The other child was burned in the face and has since made a complete recovery.

Admitted at first to Everglades General, Michelle was immediately sent on to the burn center in the Jacksonville Memorial Hospital in Miami, where she was at first refused admission.

With both parents unemployed at the time, hospital administrators refused to treat Michelle until some seven hours later when Palm Beach County officials could assure payment of bills.

Michelle was treated in the Jacksonville center for about five weeks.

The first days were the worst, Bohannon said.

Prayers and faith kept his little girl alive, he said with conviction. "I really believe that with all my heart."

The prayers will continue throughout Michelle's recovery and will help make her completely well, he added.

While Michelle was being treated in Jacksonville, the Shriners offered their help. On Dec. 31, Michelle flew to the Shriners burn center in Cincinnati free of charge.

Any future medical treatment for Michelle has also been guaranteed by the Shriners, Bohannon said.

"They've done something for my baby that makes me really grateful," Bohannon says. "They took care of her because they cared about her."

In addition the Pahokee community has come to the support of the Bohannon family. A fund has been set in the Bank of Pahokee for the family to which the community has donated over $1,300.

The entire family appreciates what the community has done and expresses their deepest appreciation, Bohannon said.

Currently, Bohannon is employed part-time in. He said he has no idea how long this income will last. With such needs as a private tutor for Michelle facing the family, money is still desperately needed.

Contributions to the Michelle Bohannon Benefit Fund can be made at the Bank of Pahokee's customer service counter.

Bohannon said Michelle's schedule over the next two weeks will be very limited. She will not be able to visit much at all, he said, adding that perhaps a few friends might be able to see her at the house.

For the most part, though, she will just rest at home, he said, where she belongs.

Teacher writing skills reviewed

By TOM KISKEN

BELLE GLADE — Teachers were asked to sit on the other side of the desk at a writing workshop, Tuesday, Feb. 7, at Glades Central High School. Instructors of the workshop focused on improving teachers' writing skills in the hope that by improving their own writing, teachers would feel more confident instructing students.

Palm Beach County School District West Area Reading Consultant Jeannette Fincannon, who engineered the workshop, explained, "A teacher who becomes confident with his/her own writing will become a better teacher of writing."

Poetry was the main topic of study at the workshop.

Instructors Sarah Bennett, Glades Central, Sonja Luts, also of Central, and Rip Radcliffe, Pahokee, began the workshop by outlining methods of improving one's poetic abilities.

Then, assignments were distributed to teachers who took their best shot at applying what they had learned. The results of these efforts were discussed and the class put together a group poem.

Teachers were directed to consider using the assignment they were given as a class lesson. "We give them something concrete that they can take back to their class," Fincannon said.

The poem workshop was the third in a series of writing workshops. Previous workshops have focused on descriptive writing and expressing personal experiences.

Fincannon said responses to the workshop have been excellent.

"We hear a lot of: 'Best workshop I ever attended,'" she said.

The teachers especially appreciate learning practical skills, actual methods to be used in the classroom, Fincannon said.

The program came about as an extension of an ongoing program, "The Bay Area Writing Project," she said.

Bennett, Luts and Radcliffe all took part in this program and then started their own workshops in the Glades.

"I know computers inside and out ... like Block knows taxes."

"I'm trained to know computers, not taxes. So I rely on H&R Block for tax preparation. Block keeps up with the tax changes. They're trained to spot every deduction and credit I'm entitled to. They make sure I don't leave any money on the table."

Black Gold fireworks display expanded

BELLE GLADE — Black Gold Jubilee Committee members literally fired up their festival in a meeting, Friday, Feb. 3.

Members voted to add $500 to the fireworks' budget, indicating the extra funds would allow for a substantially improved show.

Mike Underwood said the increase would probably allow the committee to contract a show which would include fire fireworks and a fire lit festival sign.

No decision was made on a fireworks contract, as members indicated the firm which put on last year's show would be given an opportunity to make an offer.

In other jubilee news, Brett McCormick announced the Harvest Queen beauty pageant will be held Friday, April 13 in the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center.

The pageant will be co-sponsored by the Belle Glade Lion's Club and the Palm Beach Junior College.

Information on applications will be forthcoming, McCormick said. Interested contestants can contact any Lion's Club member for information.

Committee members continued to discuss whether the "World's Largest Sugar Cube" would be constructed out of raw or refined sugar.

John Pitts, of the Glades Sugar Growers Coop, and Jeannie Olson, of the Florida Sugar Cane Growers League, asserted a raw cube would better represent the Glades cane industry.

Committee Chairman Ernie McCroan said his only reservation about a raw cube was appearance.

Pitts said he would bring a sample cube made out of raw sugar to the committee's next meeting, Friday, Feb. 17, to help members decide which way to go.

The sample cube will also help Glades Coop engineers determine the best way to build the actual cube, Pitts said.

A subcommittee was formed to investigate ways of raising money for future jubilees, including the possibility of declaring the name Black Gold Jubilee a private trademark.

Mccormick said the committee might be able to make money by selling the jubilee's name to merchant who market T-shirts and other Black Gold goods at the fest.

Efforts to solicit advertisements for the jubilee booklet continue. Committee members were told that if each member sells four new ads, budget estimates will be reached.

Committee members were assigned to merchants who had advertised in the past.

Olson indicated she was interested in organizing a poster contest among the local schools. The contest would incorporate both the jubilee and the sugar industry.

Committee members were reminded that the theme of this year's parade is "Belle Glade—It's People and It's Pride."

City supports ARC grant request

BELLE GLADE — City commissioners approved an application from the Association of Retarded Citizens to study for a state community services block grant.

ARC representatives asked for the approval which could make up to $1,000 available for the Glades District ARC. Commissioners were told that the funds would enable ARC to better serve low-income individuals. Plans for the money include the purchase of a kitchen supplies and appliances.

The application will now be passed on to state officials.

In other business, commissioners authorized city engineers to proceed with applications for state and federal sewage grants.

Ground broken for Everglades Memorial expansion

PAHOKEE — Construction of the new addition to Everglades Memorial Hospital was kicked off with groundbreaking ceremonies, Friday, Feb. 3. Actual construction on the unit began Friday with tearing down of the existing lobby. The new two-story addition, which will double the ability to care for births with nine new obstetrics beds and two nursery units containing 18 beds, will cost an estimated $2.9 million.

At the ground breaking, officials representing the hospital, city, county, state and even the federal government, commemorated the event with words of congratulations.

Featured speaker Don Childers, state senator representing District 28, said it was a pleasure to participate in such a special occasion.

"I congratulate all of you again for the work you're doing here in Pahokee," he said.

The Pahokee community has always worked together to improve its medical care and facilities, Childers said. With continued community concern the quality and accessibility of health care will continue to grow, he said.

Childers talked specifically about the rising cost of medical care. He expressed confidence that costs could be contained. "It's going to take everyone working together," he said.

Palm Beach County Judge Don Adams said the new addition is just another indication of the commitment to keep upgrading the hospital.

"We'll do anything we can do to improve the facility," Adams said.

Donna Adams, representing US Senator Tom Lewis, said Lewis sent his personal congratulations to hospital staff and the community.

"He will continue to support Pahokee and this hospital in their struggle to provide quality care to the residents of the Glades," Miss Adams said.

Hospital officials also expressed confidence the new unit would allow the facility to better care for the community.

Associate Administrator Donald Anderson said, "This is important to patient care for the entire Glades."

The addition will double the number of beds in both obstetrics and the nursery. This will allow the hospital to serve regular patients better and also provide a cushion for growth, Anderson said.

The increased number of beds will also free other general care beds in the hospital, currently occupied by obstetrics overflow patients, Anderson said.

Anderson said the addition should be ready for patients sometime in October.

The addition includes two wings extending off the current lobby. In one section will be obstetrics facilities for labor, delivery and the nursery. The other wing will house post-birth facilities for mothers.

The new two-unit, 18-bed nursery will include one unit for standard care and another for intensive care.

In addition to the expansion, several sections of the hospital will also be renovated. The current obstetrics unit will be converted into a pediatrics unit.

Renovation is also planned for pharmacy, respiratory therapy and medical records. Anderson said renovations are forecast for December completion.

CDS cagers win one

BELLE GLADE — Glades Day to just 9 points in the opening period.

Jose Ramos had 15 points and 13 rebounds for CDS. Tim Mann added 12 points and Jose Garcia picked up 14 rebounds.

The Crusaders spurred in the final minutes of the Palm Vista to seal its fifth victory of the season.

Mann had an excellent game, leading the Crusaders with 24 points and 10 rebounds.

The Crusaders played a tough defensive game, holding points 15 and 15 boards.

Chamber survey a surprise

PAHOKEE — Approximately 50 per cent of the surveys to members of the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce have been returned, according to Chamber President James Bennett.

Bennett said the response was "surprising" and that according to the responses, some of the issues needed further clarification before any decisions could be made.

The survey showed a 100 percent positive response to the issue of whether or not the city water should be improved.

Members agreed by 97 percent that the Chamber should work to ensure that city ordinances, where transient salespeople and street vendors are concerned are enforced and that appropriate fees have been paid and proper licensing obtained.

A large majority, 92.2 percent, said they would favor a requirement that would have out of town, door-to-door salespersons register with the Chamber of Commerce prior to their canvassing.

The issue of a city manager for Pahokee netted a 94.7 percent positive response.

In other business the Chamber:

Decided to have a meeting with local merchants at the Prince Theater, March 12.

Planned to contact the Chamber's of Commerce for Belle Glade, Clewiston, Moore Haven and Okeechobee to discuss goals that would benefit all the chambers around Lake Okeechobee.

SCOUTING

A SCOUT IS OBEDIENT

He obeys the rules of his family, school, troop leader and his country.

A SCOUT IS CHEERFUL

A Scout tries his best to have a positive outlook. He performs his duties with a smile.

A SCOUT IS THRIFTY

A Scout saves his money to pay for things he needs and to help others. He saves for the future.

A SCOUT IS BRAVE

Scouts stand up for what they believe in despite what others may say. Scouts have courage!

A SCOUT IS CLEAN

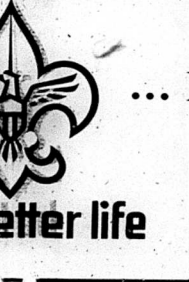

A Scout keeps himself clean in both body and mind. He does not use foul language.

A SCOUT IS REVERENT

Scouts are faithful to their religious obligations. They also respect the beliefs of others.

12th, we particularly want to salute the activities of our local Scouts, and thank them for a job well done. "America's Manpower begins with BOYPOWER." Scouting points the way to good citizenship. In the Scout Laws, a boy finds a Code of Conduct that will serve him well all his life.

Blue Devils give Clewiston the slip

TIGER, Blue Devil cagers scramble for a loose ball Saturday in Pahokee.

PAHOKEE—Variety is the spice of life, as long as you win, according to the Pahokee High School boy's basketball team.

The cagers improved their record to 12-6 during the week with two home victories earned in contrasting styles.

On Friday, Feb. 3, the Raiders jumped all over Spanish River with a roaring 100-29 victory. Not quite satisfied with the easy life, the Blue Devils had the fans on the edge of their seats the next night with an exciting overtime squeaker over Clewiston, 72-67.

Looking back at the week, Coach Eddie Rhodes expressed hope his team is coming around.

The Blue Devils have won four straight, despite having recently lost three starters, two including leading scorer and rebounder Demetrius Brown, to grades and another to attitude problems.

Rhodes said the next few games would tell much about the squad.

In Saturday night's thriller, Pahokee was finally able to outlast Clewiston in overtime after the Tigers had struggled back time and time again in regulation time.

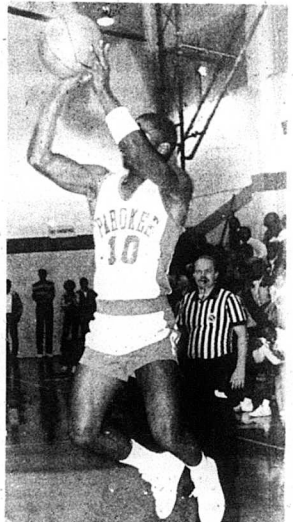

The Blue Devils had built a cushion of up to ten points in the first half only to see the Tigers claw their way back into the contest. And then in the waning seconds of the contest, the Blue Devils forged ahead again on Barrie Jackson's bucket, but were forced to play on when Clewiston responded with the tying hoop at the buzzer.

Blue Devils Coach Eddie Rhodes said that while he was pleased with the win, his squad could have played better.

The Blue Devils weren't as smooth as they need to be. "We made way too many turnovers," Rhodes said.

The team was playing its first game against top competition since losing the three starters, Rhodes said, adding this might have affected performance a bit.

FLOATING in for a basket.

Raider victories rate climb in standings

BELLE GLADE—Glades Central moved up a notch to fourth in state 3A rankings with two victories during the week.

The Raiders downed Lake Worth, 80-57, Tuesday, Jan. 31, and also beat Boca Raton, 56-43, Friday night.

The two wins upped the team's season record to 19-3.

Coach Harold Taylor said the Raiders are polishing their game for the upcoming playoffs.

"I think we've shown greater patience. We've kept fouling down to a minimum," he said.

The players have to continue to work on playing under control and with patience, he said.

With four regular season games remaining, Taylor noted that the Raiders will be conference champs if they can sweep all four.

Taylor said the team's performance against Lake Worth was very heartening. Lake Worth had earlier upset Martin County, who had, in turn, beaten the Raiders.

Glades Central controlled the Lake Worth game most of the way, using a 20-10 second quarter to open things up.

Taylor pointed to the free throw line as a major difference in the contest. The Raiders hit 16 of 20 from the line, while Lake Worth converted just 7 foul shots.

All three front line men played well, Taylor said. Forwards Rhondy Weston and Terry Givens combined for 55 points. Center Nate Johnston chipped in with 14.

Lawrence Duncan, a surprise starter at a swing position, also played well.

Taylor said the Raider's first half defense highlighted their victory over Boca Raton. The squad gave up just 11 points in the entire first half.

The second half defense left something to be desired, Taylor added, pointing to Boca's 32 points after intermission.

Boca only hit 1 of 4 free throws, and Taylor said the Raider's lack of fouls really helped the team.

Johnston played one of his best games of the year with 14 points and 10 rebounds.

Terry Givens also had another good game.

CDS girls lose 3 games

BELLE GLADE—The Christian Day School girl cagers were defeated twice during the week, 36-27 by Moore Haven, Thursday, Feb. 2, and 43-37 at Palm Vista, Monday.

The girls' season record dropped to 6-11. The girls played even with Moore Haven up to the third quarter when a cold shooting spell hurt their efforts. For the game, the girls had trouble dropping the ball in the hole, converting just over 20 percent of their shots. Angie Miller led the team with 12 points.

The Crusaders played another tight game against Palm Vista. Action was pretty even until the end of the fourth quarter when CDS, with three starters on the bench with fouls, was put away. Angie Miller had 10 points for CDS and Kendra Reineke added 8 points.

Glades Day Gator cagers drop 2 of 3

BELLE GLADE — The key for Glades Day boys hoopers is to play four quarters at the top of their ability, said Coach Kelly Beckham.

Temporary lapses, Beckham said, spelled defeat for the Gators in two of their three games this week. If the team could play the entire game as well as they usually play three quarters, the team's 9-7 record would be much improved, he added.

During the week's action, the Gators were dropped by Benjamin, Tuesday, Jan. 31, 69-56 in West Palm Beach. On Thursday, Kings Academy came to Belle Glade and edged the home team 58-51. The Gators bounced back Friday night at home with a 58-44 victory over Christian Day.

Beckham noted both Kings and Benjamin have been persistent pains for Glades Day players and fans throughout the season, as the schools have dropped the Gators a total of five times.

A third quarter lapse against Benjamin severely hurt the Gators. The opponents outscored Glades Day, 20-7 in this period.

Except for that decisive lapse, Beckham said, his Gators played right with Benjamin. In fact, Glades Day enjoyed a six-point halftime edge.

The players particularly did a fine defensive job, Beckham said.

Mike Schlechter led Gator scorers with 19 points. Brian Lohmann scored 12 points, and John Treva had 10.

The Kings Academy contest held more of the same for Glades Day.

Going into the final quarter, the Gators were down by just one point. However, Kings caught fire in the final period and put the game away.

Noting the quality of the Kings team, Beckham said his team "played a great game."

The team had a couple defensive breakdowns late which hurt, the coach said. Overall, however, the team once again played well defensively, he added.

Schlechter again led the scoring with 17 points. Lohmann put in 13 points. Treva contributed 11.

The Gators pushed their way back to the winning side of the ledger against Christian Day.

Although Glades Day trailed after the first period, the bench was able to provide some spark "and keep things under control."

Individually, Treva scored 15 points and Lohmann added 14. Jose Perez added six off the bench and played a good all-around game.

Lady Raiders keep record perfect

BELLE GLADE — pumped in 24 points, Glades Central girls continued their winning ways with three victories and a perfect 17-0 season tally.

The girls are now ranked tenth among 3A schools in the state.

The Raiders beat Boca Raton, 96-34, Thursday, Feb. 2, then dropped North Shore 53-42 and finished the week with a 101-36 trouncing of Santalices.

The girls begin play in the district tourney Thursday, Feb. 9 and Coach Graham Frost said the team will just take the playoffs one game at a time.

Frost said the girls played well against Boca with few turnovers.

Balance scoring continued to be the team's trademark as four players broke double figures. Denise Bussey scored 24 points, Etvette Lyman scored 23, Terry Bailey had 15, and Dawn Byrd put in 10 points.

Karen Gooden also had a good game. Frost commented, with 8 points, 10 rebounds and good defense.

Facing highly touted North Shore was a little nerve wracking, Frost said, but the girls came through well.

Bussey led the way with 18 points, followed by Bailey with 12 and Holmes with 9 points.

Etvette Lyman grabbed 16 rebounds. The girls finished the week on a high note, playing very well in beating Santa Lucies.

Frost said the best break was especially effective for the Raiders. Lyman had 22 points, Bailey scored 21, Bussey had 20, Byrd had 14 and Josephine Milton added 12 points.

Soccer team drops close match

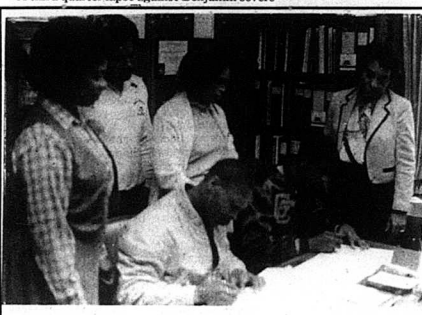

The Glades Central soccer team dropped a close game to North Shore High School, 1-0, Monday, Feb. 6.

With the scored tied at the end of regulation time, the game went into a shootout, which Lake Worth won.

Scoring goals for the Raiders in the shootout were Bernard Excess and Caesar Hemanley. Coach Cornhauser said his Raiders dominated the contest but couldn't score. "Glades Central dominated up and down the field, but couldn't put the ball in back of the net," he said.

The soccer team ends its regular season Friday, Feb. 10, at Pope John Paul and then begins the district tourney Monday, Feb. 13 at Suncrest.

5 Glades Central football players signed letters of intent Wednesday. See story on Page 1.

Wrestlers are 3rd in dist.

BELLE GLADE — Nine Glades Central wrestlers advanced to the regional tournament by placing in the Class 3A District 13 tourney held Saturday, Feb. 4 at Cardinal Newman High School.

Glades Central, as a team, placed third in the tourney with 123 points. Champion Cardinal Newman scored 177 points.

Two Raiders won district championships. Frank Kelly at 105 pounds, and Juran Sampson at 132 pounds.

Other Raider wrestlers to place and thereby qualify for the Friday and Saturday, Feb. 10-11, regional tourney in Fort Lauderdale, included: Lorenzo Crane, 112, third place in the district; Andrew Roberts, 126, second; Homer Rozier, 138, second; Phillip Farley, 145, third. John Hubbard, 155, third; James Moore 167, second; and Victor Blue, 185, fourth. Lee Ford, 98, and Edgar Mottley, 119, also wrestled in the district tourney.

Coach Frank Lasagna said he was very pleased with the teams performance. "The kids seemed to be ready to wrestle," he said.

He commented that both Raider champions beat wrestlers that they had lost to during the regular season. While the wrestlers began the season slowly, Lasagna said, the squad is hitting its peak now.

If the wrestlers continue to perform at top levels, several wrestlers could advance to the state tourney and the team as a whole could place among the top half teams in regional competition.

Lasagna said at the beginning of the year he wasn't sure how the team would do. Six or seven wrestlers from last year's squad had graduated and Lasagna, a first-year coach, said he didn't know too much about area competition.

The team lost a couple matches early on that they shouldn't have, but bounced back and finished strong with a 7-6 record.

Among the stronger Raider performances was a fifth place finish in the conference tourney a couple weeks ago.

Farm crafts meeting

The Farm Crafts Advisory Committee will meet in Belle Glade at the West Technical Education Center on Wednesday, Feb. 15.

The conference will begin at 9:30 a.m. and run to 10:30 a.m.

Pahokee—

However, he noted the squad showed the ability to play well under pressure with good execution in overtime.

Also on the positive side, Pahokee shot well, especially from the charity stripe.

Individually, guard Anthony Smith, with 20 points and 8 assists, played well, as did Barrie Jackson, who at one point hit six straight free throws.

Against Spanish River, the Blue Devils controlled the contest the entire way.

Every player on the squad played and scored, which Rhodes noted, is very pleasing.

However, overall the squad did not have one of its better nights, Rhodes said, in particular citing some defensive lapses.

Spanish River was able to work the ball inside occasionally, the one thing Pahokee wanted to prevent, he explained. Leading the Pahokee charge on offense was Andrew Berry with 18 points and Darryll Brown with 17. Both Berry and Charles Bess had strong games on the boards.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Adams celebrate golden anniversary

PAHOKEE -- W.J. and Margaret Adams will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary, Sunday, Feb. 12 from 3 to 6 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lee, 2597 Bacom Point Road in Pahokee.

W.J. Adams, a native of Opp, Ala., first came to the Glades in 1926 after being discharged from the U.S. Marine Corps.

After traveling in the area for a few years, he and his brother settled in Sandcut in 1930. Their sister, Mrs. H.G. McGourik, provided room and board.

Adams' first job was driving a truck for a farm supply warehouse which provided area farmers with hampers, crates and other items used in the produce business. During this time, he also tried some farming at Sandcut, but was not successful.

When Adams was told of a store available for rent, he acquired and stocked it with the money he had saved from his trucking job.

It was at this small store on SR 441 in Sandcut that he met his wife, Margaret Spell, a native of Hazlehurst, Georgia.

She had come to visit her Aunt Odell McCall and Uncle J. Land in Port Mayaca in August of 1933. The McCalls were acquainted with Adams through his store and they felt that an introduction of the two young people would be proper.

On a trip to buy chicken feed, Mrs. McCall introduced her niece to Adams. Shortly thereafter, the couple courted.

The couple was married in February of the following year. They traveled to West Palm Beach in a borrowed car on a Sunday afternoon, and since blood tests and licenses were not required, they were married the same day by a female assistant Justice-of-the Peace.

Soon after their marriage, the couple had to give up their business due to a raise in the store rent and they moved to Baxley, Georgia.

After a short attempt to make a living in the retail business in Georgia, the couple returned to the Glades and later, opened another grocery business on Bacom Point Road in Pahokee. The couple kept the store for the next 30 years and Mrs. Adams managed the store. W.J. and the children took outside jobs to supplement their income.

In addition to managing the store and her own children, Margaret began keeping children for various families in Pahokee.

During World War II, she received a letter from the war department in Washington, D.C., requesting her help in the war effort by continuing to keep children.

She was the only person in the area to offer this service at that time. She continues to this day to keep children in an effort to assist working mothers.

In addition to W.J. and Margaret Adams, the immediate family includes Judge Don T. Adams, Mrs. Mary Lee Salvatore, and Mrs. Elaine Lee of Pahokee; Mrs. Willie C. Poole of Belle Glade and Dr. Omar J. Adams of Daytona Beach.

Local invitations to the anniversary celebration are not being sent. All friends of the family are invited to attend.
